One again Hometown is a good place to buy your coffee. The owner has addressed the issue.

Good morning. At the Board of Mayor Alderman meeting last night the individual in the included photo made some seriously disparaging public comments about MPD. A portion of his comments were centered around the recent OIS. I fully respect the right of citizens to speak during the public comment period of the meetings but I have no doubt that his comments crossed the line. My sentiments were also shared by many in attendance. I had a brief conversation with this individual following his comments and I will just say that his disdain for MPD is clear and as you would expect, the conversation did not go well.

I only bring this to your attention as I learned after the meeting that this person works at Hometown Coffee on Old Granite. By no means am I telling anyone what businesses you choose to patronize but I feel it is necessary to bring this to your attention.
